

REGISTRATION EXCEEDS HUNDRED

Sunday School Conference Brings
Many Interested Workers to Seymour for Meetings.

BANQUET ROOM WAS CROWDED

Sessions Today Have Been Helpful in Methods and Plans for Ele-

The banquet room for the Elementary Sunday School Conference Friday evening was taxed to its capacity. There was a very general expression of appreciation of the splendid menu which was served by the ladies of the M. E. church.

Following the banquet Miss Emma G. Lemen, elementary superintendent for Indiana, presided as toastmistress. Mr. W. C. Hall, of Indianapolis, who is the state president, was expected to preside but a few days ago suffered a stroke of paralysis and is now in St. Vincent's hospital where he is steadily improving. He sent a message to the conference which was read by Miss Lemen. A unanimous vote was taken to send him a message of sympathy and good wishes from the conference. A message of sympathy was ordered sent also to Mrs. James Marsh, widow of James Marsh, the Jackson County president, who died last Monday.

The following telegram was sent to Mr. Hall this morning: "Elementary Conference joins in expression of sympathy and earnest prayer for your speedy recovery. Isaiah 26:3, 'Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on Thee: because he trusteth in Thee.'"

Three toasts were given: "The Seed," Miss Myrtle Huckelberry, elementary state superintendent for the Baptist denomination; "The Soil and the Sower," Miss Pearl Weaver, temperance superintendent for the state association; "The Harvest," Mrs. Mary Foster Bryner, elementary superintendent for the International Sunday School Association. These addresses were greatly enjoyed and they emphasized the importance of care in the selection of seed sown in the minds and hearts of the children in our Sunday Schools, the important place which the teacher has as the sower of the seed, the large part which the preparation of the soil has to do with the development of the plant and then the looking for harvest of ripened christian lives growing out of the careful training in the Sunday School. The closing prayer was made by Rev. J. H. Carnes, pastor of the M. E. church.

This morning's session of the conference was well attended. Following the opening address by Mrs. Bryner, the subject of "Grading in the Sunday School" was discussed for the Beginners' department by Miss Lemen, Primary department by Miss Weaver, the Junior department by Miss Huckelberry. These addresses were followed by a general conference led by Mrs. Bryner in which questions pertaining to the work of the various departments were considered. The program for the morning and all of the addresses were based on the aims and purposes of

OCTOBER TERM OF CIRCUIT COURT ADJOURNED TO-DAY

Final Disposition Made of Several Cases—Appeal Taken in Orange County Suit.

The October term of the Jackson circuit court was adjourned this afternoon by Judge O. O. Swails. Considerable business was transacted today as an effort was made by attorneys to dispose of cases which had been tried during the term.

The court overruled the motion of the plaintiff in the case of Jacob R. Chasteen vs. Simeon L. Frost, et al., commissioners of Orange county for a new trial. The plaintiff's attorneys gave notice of an appeal to the appellate court. This case involved the payment of about $2,500 alleged to be due on a gravel road contract.

The action filed by the Hoosier Harness Company against James A. Russell was decided by the court. The plaintiff was denied an attachment of property but the petition for the appointment of a receiver was granted. The receiver will be appointed later.

Joe Day pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny and was fined $5 and costs. The court fixed his sentence in the reformatory at from one to eight years which was suspended during good behavior.

The court ordered that a deed be issued to F. H. Benter who filed suit against Sarah B. Findley, et al., for specific performance of a contract. John W. Fountain was appointed commissioner to make the deed, and the purchase money is to be paid over within thirty days after the deed is delivered. The plaintiff brought suit to obtain title to certain land which he alleged he had purchased.

The Shores Buller Co., plaintiff against Ira Isaacs, et al., was awarded $391.32 on account and mortgage.

The following divorces were granted:

Lola B. Crane vs. Charles Crane. Decree to plaintiff. Defendant given custody of minor children.

Bruce Trowbridge vs. Minnie C. Trowbridge. Divorce granted to plaintiff.

It is Stated.

Local Employees Interested in Proposed Movement—Decision by Referendum.

Local railroad employees are manifesting a keen interest in the proposed demand to be made about March 1, next, that the railroad companies grant an eight-hour working day instead of ten hours.

A dispatch has the following: The four railroad brotherhoods including more than 350,000 engineers, firemen, conductors and brakemen on all railroads in the United States are preparing to make formal demand, about March 1, that the railroads grant an eight-hour day, with the same pay the employees now get for ten hours.

Action will be taken at a meeting of the executive committee of the brotherhoods in Chicago December 15, when ballots for a referendum vote will be prepared. The votes are expected to be tabulated before the first of March.

The eastern associations of the general chairman of the engineers' and firemen's brotherhoods, in joint session at Chicago, decided to join the conductors' and trainmen's brotherhoods in the eight-hour day and time and a half for overtime demands.

Similar action is expected at the meeting of southern associations of engineers and firemen at Washington City next Monday, and of the western associations at Chicago, December 15. Under agreement the roads must answer the men within thirty days.

VETERAN ANSWERS FINAL SUMMONS

Ulysses R. Dannettell, Aged 74, Passes Away After Long Illness
with Uraemic Poisoning.

TAUGHT SCHOOL MANY YEARS

At Close of War Deceased Took Up
Study of Law and was Admitted to the Bar in Cincinnati.

Ulysses R. Dannettell, aged seventy-four years, a widely known farmer of Jackson county and a veteran of the Civil War, died a few minutes after midnight Friday night at his home on Chestnut Ridge, following a lingering illness with uraemic poisoning. He had been in failing health for three years and for the last two weeks was unable to leave his bed.

Mr. Dannettell was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Dannettell and was born in Franklin county, this state, June 11, 1841. When he was a small child his parents moved to Cincinnati and he was educated in the schools in that city, having been graduated from the Woodward high school. In the Spring of 1855 he came to Jackson county with his parents.

At the beginning of the war between the North and the South he answered the Union's call for volunteers and enlisted in Company H of the 19th Indiana Regiment, known as the "Iron Brigade." He served until the close of the conflict and saw service in a number of the worst battles of the war. He was twice wounded during his service, having been shot once during the battle of Gettysburg, and again during the fighting at Antietam.

After the close of the war Mr. Dannettell returned here but remained a short time, going to Cincinnati, where he took up the study of law. He remained in one of the well known law offices there and was admitted to the bar. After receiving his certificate which entitled him to practice, he removed to Coffee county, Kansas, where he practiced law for several years. While in the West he was attorney for a railroad company and accompanied a surveying party to the coast in the capacity of legal advisor. He remained in Kansas for about six years.

Mr. Dannettell decided to return to his old home and on September 27, 1877, he was united in marriage to Miss Martha A. McCreary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McCreary. After his return to this county he engaged in school teaching which he followed until about 1886. He was regarded as one of the best school teachers of his time and served schools in Washington township. In examinations for a teacher's license he made a high grade and during the latter part of his career in that profession was not required to take the examination.

After he retired from active school work he gave attention to his farm where he had lived since his marriage. The farm, known as the McCreary home place, is in a high state of fertility, due largely to the attention he gave the work.

Because of his connection with the schools in Washington township and his long residence in Jackson county, Mr. Dannettell was widely known. He was honest and upright in all his business dealings and was held in the highest respect and esteem by everyone who knew him. During his early life he was a member of the church of his parents but in recent years had attended the Christian church near Chestnut Ridge where Mrs. Dannettell holds her membership.

The deceased was the oldest of a family of ten children. He is survived by three brothers and four sisters. He leaves his widow and one son, Harry Dannettell, of Pittsburg, and one grandson. His brothers are: H. C. Dannettell, of this city; George W. Dannettell, of Evansville, and F. F. Dannettell, of Cincinnati. His sisters are: Mrs. Rosa Steach, of Embreeville, Pa.; Mrs. Clara L. Hall, of Twin Cities, Idaho; Mrs. Stella McGowan, of Marshalltown, Ia., and Mrs. Ada Johnson, of Chestnut Ridge.

The funeral services will be conducted Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock from the Chestnut Ridge church. Burial at the cemetery near the church.

Distress in the Stomach.
There are many people who have a distress in the stomach after meals. It is due to indigestion and easily remedied by taking one of Chamberlain's Tablets after meals. Mrs. Henry Padghan, Victor, N. Y., writes: "For some time I was troubled with headache and distress in my stomach after eating, also with constipation. About six months ago I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets. They regulated the action of my bowels and the headache and other annoyances ceased in a short time." Obtainable everywhere.

TEMPERANCE NOTES

STOP RECKLESS DRIVING.
Maryland's automobile operators are prohibited from taking a single drink while at the wheel of a car.

Commissioner Roe, whose department has this matter in hand, says: "I have decided to put an end to reckless driving, and especially to reckless driving superinduced by strong drink, if it is possible for me to do so."

"To accomplish my purpose, it will be necessary for me to refuse to distinguish between people who drink little and those who drink much. I shall, therefore, in the future revoke the license of every automobile driver who is brought before me if it can be shown that the accused has been drinking while operating his car. "This, in my judgment, is the only safe rule to follow. I do not wish to pose as an authority on drink or what constitutes drunkenness. I see no ray of hope in so-called sobriety tests."

"Therefore, I must conclude that a chauffeur or car owner who has taken one drink is as guilty as the motor operator who technically is considered full. I am vested with full authority by law to forfeit licenses for such offenses, and I certainly shall."

LAST WORD ON CONSERVATION.

The necessity for conserving our national resources has been occupying the attention of our legislators, national and state. Laws have been enacted to protect our forests and our water supply. Millions of dollars have been spent in controlling contagious diseases among our domestic animals, and to eliminate the boll weevil from the southern cotton fields and the various blights from our fruit orchards. What greater national resource has our country than our boys and girls, and why should not the government protect them from the blight caused by the use of intoxicating liquors?—Congressman Addison T. Smith of Idaho.

INCONSISTENCY.

"How dare you champion a thing you can't pray for?" demanded Mary Harris ARMOR recently to an audience at the First Methodist church of Erie, Pa. "How dare you say, 'Thy will be done on earth,' and go out and sign a liquor license application? How dare you pray, 'Deliver us from evil,' and put a stumbling block in the path of your neighbor's son? You do these things every time you excuse the liquor traffic, every time you vote for the liquor interests, every time you put your name on an application for licensing the sale of liquor in your community."

WATER FOR CHRISTENING.

Illinois is the first state to launch a naval reserve hydroaeroplane. It was christened in Chicago by Miss Mona Dunne, daughter of the governor, with water from a well on Abraham Lincoln's Springfield home.

IN WEST VIRGINIA.

In the six dry months ending February 28 of this year, Wheeling, W. Va., served 7,900 meals in the city workhouse; in the six wet months ending February 28 of last year, 36,458 meals were served there.

REDUCED TAXES.

The tax rate for Juniata county, Pa., has been reduced from 6 to 4½ mills. As there was a decrease of $33,000 in the debt of the county during one year of curtailed license and two years of absolutely no license, the county commissioners felt they could afford to grant this reduction to the taxpayers. Juniata county maintains no almshouse and finds little use for one even under the present business depression.

PATRIOTIC DUTY.

General Joffre, communicating his decree of prohibition for the French army to the newspapers at Nancy, said: "It is the duty of all patriots to fight alcoholism in all its forms. Everyone must understand that anything capable of diminishing the moral and material strength of our army constitutes a real crime against national defense in face of the enemy."

BARLEYCORN'S INFLUENCE.

"I have recently reported on a separate study of 269 murderers. Alcohol was used to excess by 41.5 per cent, while but 12.6 per cent were abstainers. Nearly half were under the influence of alcohol when the crime was committed and 27.9 per cent had a history of previous arrest for drunkenness."—Dr. Rock Sleyster in Everybody's.

CHAMPION OF ABSTINENCE.

The Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholasievitch, commanding the entire Russian army, stands six feet seven inches high, drinks no wine and is accredited with the abolition of vodka in the army. "A drunken soldier cannot shoot straight," he said when mobilization for the present war came up.

TEUTONS WILL GET TRADE NOTE

Protest to Include Germany and Austria.

PRECEDENT IS ESTABLISHED

Contraband Should Be Limited to Limits Recognized by International Law, Declares the United States in Note to Belligerents.

Washington, Nov. 20.—The protest of America against placing nearly all articles of commerce on the contraband lists of European belligerents will go to Germany and Austria as well as to Great Britain and her allies.

The note is approaching completion, but its dispatch will be delayed until it has been gone over carefully by Secretary Lansing and President Wilson and probably by the neutrality board.

In the last note to Great Britain regarding interference with neutral trade, Secretary Lansing gave notice of an intention to make contraband the subject of a later communication and preparation of this document already is in progress. It has become known that when it is forwarded to London, virtually identical notes will be dispatched to the Teutonic allies and to France and Italy.

So far as Germany and Austria are concerned, officials regard the forthcoming protest as more or less academic in view of the fact that their commerce raiders and cruisers no longer are on the high seas, and their seizures of contraband are limited to the work of submarines. In retaliation for the issuance of the British blockade orders in council, however, Germany has promulgated a list of contraband that includes practically all American products, consequently the state department has decided that formal protest is necessary to record the assertion of its rights by the United States.

Generally it will be framed to recall to the belligerent powers the practices of nations in the treatment of contraband prior to the present war, and even before the London conference, which eventuated in the declaration of London.

The right of a belligerent to extend the list of absolute contraband beyond the limits recognized in international law before the outbreak of war will be challenged, and particular objection will be made to wholesale additions to the contraband list animated by spirit of retaliation as in the case of nearly all of the present belligerents.

That declarations of contraband should be limited to articles not merely available for military use, but designed chiefly for that purpose will be one of the principal contentions.

FRANCHISE LEAGUE TRIES TO BRING ABOUT PEACE

Indications Are Opponents to Mrs. Stimson will Not Try to Force Her Resignation.

By United Press.

Indianapolis, November 20.—If preparations by the Stimson forces in Indianapolis are any indication of the facts, the forces in the Woman's Franchise League who are trying to force the resignation of Mrs. Stimson from the State Board will not bring up the issue at the Fifth District meeting at Brazil today.

Dr. Amelia Keller and Mrs. Grace Julian Clark, the leaders of the Mrs. L. J. Cox opposition to Mrs. Stimson, will not be in Brazil today, according to a statement from franchise headquarters today.

Although reports from Brazil and Terre Haute were to the effect that a supreme effort would be made to bring about peace, it was stated at headquarters here today that the board had no intentions of withdrawing, "for the good of the cause," the request for the Stimson resignation.

Brazil is a scant fifteen miles from Terre Haute, the home of the two principals, and women from that city began streaming in early. They were met by a cavalcade from Indianapolis, representing the state organization, known to be hostile to Mrs. Stimson. Although Mrs. Stimson has been the loser on points thus far in the district meetings, there were indications that she might be able to swing her own district. This the Cox forces would not concede, however.

The fight started when Mrs. Stimson chose to oppose the candidacy of Mrs. Cox for the presidency of the Federation. Mrs. Stimson won her fight, after branding Mrs. Cox as the liberal candidate. The methods Mrs. Stimson used to win have been made the basis of the fight in the Franchise League. Her opponents have charged that she circulated papers branding Mrs. Cox as a friend of the orderly saloon. Mrs. Stimson has at no time denied that circulated such papers.

Although Mrs. Stimson won easily in the Federation, defeating the supposedly undefeatable Mrs. Grace Julian Clarke, leader of the Cox forces, the Franchise League cast almost a solid vote for Mrs. Cox. The next development was a vote of a partial meeting of board members of the league to ask Mrs. Stimson to resign from the board. This Mrs. Stimson declared she would not do. She said her opponents were the friends of the liquor interests and non-church people. In five districts the fight for and against Mrs. Stimson has been waged. First at Anderson the district voted to sustain Mrs. Stimson. Then at Huntington, Elkhart and Evansville they voted to sustain the action of the board in asking her to resign. Richmond was wise and voted to be neutral. No action was taken at Lafayette.

FIERCE STORMS HEAD NORTHWEST

Twenty Injured and Much Damage In New York.

New York, Nov. 20.—It was an aerial conspiracy of three cyclones, all originally of modest proportions and intensities, that broke windows and swept folks off their feet and piled a high surf on Coney island.

Heads, legs and arms and ribs were broken and feelings fractured, but nobody was killed by the riots of blasts in Lower Manhattan, near the skyscrapers.

The weather bureau announced that the gale had achieved the unprecedented force from the east of seventy-one miles an hour.

A storm area extended from Medicine Hat to Miami, Fla., and across the continent from the North Platte to Atlantic City. The prophets said that the combined storm center was not apparently going the regulation course of storms, out to sea through the St. Lawrence valley, but that it was determined to continue to be eccentric and seemed to be headed northwest.

We should get strong gales from southwest, west and northwest this day, if there is verity in the spirit of prophecy; but sometimes the wind bloweth where it listeth and does not give a continental for precedents.

After the blast had expended its force hereabout it was succeeded by a calm and a fog that cut off the upper halves of all the tall towers of the town. About twenty persons were injured here during the blow.

LARGE CLASS CONFIRMED AT LOCAL CATHOLIC CHURCH

Impressive Sermon Delivered by Bishop Joseph Chartrand, of Indianapolis Diocese.

With an impressive ceremony a special feature of which was an able address by Bishop Chartrand, of the Indianapolis diocese, a class of seventy-five members was confirmed at the St. Ambrose Catholic church Friday night. The altar was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and greenery. Special music was given by the choir.

Bishop Chartrand's address was on "The Virtue of Faith." His sermon was scholarly and delivered in a forceful manner. He is an eloquent speaker and his sentences are clear and full of meaning. The address was directed to the congregation and the members of the class in particular. He urged them to be loyal to their faith and become active soldiers of Christ. Bishop Chartrand has spoken here before and has many friends among the members of the local church. The Rev. Father C. J. Conrad assisted in the service. The confirmation service was conducted by Bishop Chartrand. The Rev. Father J. B. Delaney, of Columbus, and the Rev. Father James Tyan, of Henryville, were also present at the service.

Despite the unfavorable weather, a large audience was present. The local Catholic church has been recently decorated and the interior is beautiful.

The confirmation exercises are not held at any regular time during the year, but are arranged whenever the Bishop can visit the various churches in this diocese.

The high school basket ball season was auspiciously opened last night with an easy victory for the local quintet over Austin high school, 43 to 13. Austin was completely outplayed, scoring only one field goal. The local guards smothered every scoring attempt of the visitors, while the forwards charged through the Austin defense almost at will, shooting baskets from every corner of the floor. The aggressive playing of the locals resulted in their being fouled by Referee Mann, of Austin, on numerous occasions, eleven of which were converted into scores by the Austin team.

A pleasing feature of the game from a local standpoint was the team work of the purple and white performers. With two new players, Boyles and Riley, in the line up, the plays went off smoothly and the passing was exceptionally good. It is evident that Coach Hendershot has the making of a winning team, and the boys all seem to have the right spirit. Sumner, McCurdy and Ackerman, stars of last year's team, showed up in mid season form and promise to maintain the standard of their last year's work.

Sumner and Boyles each had six baskets to their credit, and McCurdy and Ackerman three each. Ackerman did the goal throwing on fouls and dropped seven through the net.

The local team's next scheduled game is on Dec. 3, when the Southport five will be here, and on the following Friday the Washington high school team will make its first appearance on the local floor.

In the inter-class game which preceded the big game last evening the Sophomores defeated the Freshmen by a score of 25 to 5.

Crothersville 71—Brownstown 14.

In a one sided game at Crothersville last evening Crothersville high school overwhelmed the Brownstown high school by a score of 71 to 14. Crothersville has a strong team this year and expects to again work its way into the district tournament, which will be held here next Spring. They are scheduled for a game on the local floor later in the season.

"FOOD OF THE GODS" IN OHIO LABORATORY.

Ellis M. Black, a youngster in the scientific world, who has been working in the laboratories of the Ohio State university, asserted the other day that he has discovered a hitherto unknown substance, found in practically all human and animal foods, by which the growth and development of animals can be controlled.

Administered to young animals, Black says his mysterious food may cause them to grow twice or three times as fast as a normally fed animal. Deprived of it altogether, the animal dies. Deformed and stunted animals, he says, if they receive it in varying doses, reach their full growth, although their period of youthful growth may have elapsed long before. Mr. Black, who is not yet twenty-four, has already received two degrees from the university and is now working for the degree of doctor of philosophy. He has hopes that his new discovery will lengthen human life; that if fed to backward babies it will cause them to mature normally. But he will not promise or predict.

For seven months Mr. Black and his assistants, under direction of Dr. Ernest Scott and Dr. J. F. Lyman, professors of physiological chemistry at the Ohio State university, have experimented with their "elixir" on human subjects, mostly babies. Black says these experiments have produced "some favorable results, which cannot be announced yet."

"Scientists always have held that all foods are made up of five well known substances—water, fats, carbohydrates, proteins and minerals," Mr. Black explains. "Our discovery is the sixth component—the unknown component of animal and human foods. It is the one necessary substance for life to animals in their food. A rabbit fed with any combination of the ordinary food elements minus our product will die in three weeks. This elixir element of foods is stored in the various organs of animals and probably of human beings, so that even deprived of it for a time they are able to live. It is worth noting that animals which eat their foods raw have a longer span of adult life in comparison to their period of youth and growth than humans."

But They Can.

ITALIAN STEAMSHIP MAY BE VICTIM OF SUBMARINE

Pursued Vessel Sends Wireless Message from Mediterranean Off Coast of Spain.

By United Press.
Paris, November 20.—Destruction of the Italian steamship Verona by a German U-boat is feared today, following the receipt of a wireless message from the ship saying she was being pursued by a submarine the moment the message was flashed. She was off the Mediterranean coast of Spain and the wireless received on Majorca Island was delayed to Madrid.

The Verona is of 1,261 tons and sailed from Genoa.

THE FALL OF VILLA.

By United Press.
Washington, D. C., November 20.—The present breach between Carranza and Villa was opened a year ago, by jealousy, rivalry and mistrust. Peace was short lived following Carranza's entry into Mexico City in August, 1914. A month later Villa began his revolt against Carranza, who was supported by General Obregon. Gen. Angeles, military rival of Obregon, sided with Villa.

The Villa-Carranza breach widened when Villa demanded that Carranza proclaim himself provisional president, according to the "plan of Guadalupe," name a cabinet and call elections. Carranza did not do this. It would have disqualified him for the presidency.

The Aguas Calientes convention was then called to mediate. Carranza claimed the convention was packed by Villa delegates planning his overthrow. The convention, in which Zapata was represented, declared Carranza a rebel, proclaimed the new Conventionalist government, elected Eulalia Gutierrez provisional president. The Villista armies captured Mexico City.

This was the strongest point in Villa's efforts. From this time his power waned. Carranza and Obregon retreated to Vera Cruz. Villa and Zapata controlled three-fourths of Mexico.

Defection of Gutierrez started the disintegration of Villa's power. Gutierrez, outraged by Villa's cruelties and barbarities, he said, left Mexico City with several thousand troops under Gen. Lucio Blanco. His counter-revolt collapsed. The Conventionalists elected Roque Garza president. Gutierrez fled to the mountains. Obregon gradually built up Carranza's army. Mexico City was captured and re-captured a half dozen times.

Villa's forces were gradually pushed northward. His most crushing defeat was at Celaya last spring. There in desperate charges he lost 6,000 men. Superstitious belief in his military infallibility was shattered. He never recovered.

Five years of revolution had prostrated the country. Friends were untitled or devastated. Live stock was confiscated. Famine swept the country. Business collapsed. Villa's army was pushed back to the border.

The President last July made another Pan-American move to pacify Mexico by calling representatives of six Latin American countries to aid the U. S. Carranza would not participate and, with Villa apparently a broken reed, the conferees recommended recognition of the Carranza government.

The last desperate struggle of Villa at Agua Prieta, opposite Douglas, Ariz., having failed, today Carranza is entering upon the reconstruction of Mexico.

DEVELOPMENT OF STATE TO BE CENTENNIAL FEATURE

Commission Has Asked Governor Ralston to Declare December 11, 1916, as Holiday.

A tentative plan has been adopted, outlining the nature of the Indiana Centennial Celebration to be held at the capital. Subject to approval by the State Board of Agriculture, the latter and the Indiana Historical Commission, will co-operate in holding a Centennial Exposition in connection with the State Fair. By a series of historical exhibits, the material development of the state will be shown along all industrial lines.

One month later, within the first half of October, the more dramatic and spectacular part of the celebration will take place, lasting from ten days to two weeks. The principal feature of this will be the State Pageant which will probably be given on several evenings during the period. Each day will be devoted to a special feature or interest, as follows: Home Coming; Grand Review of patriotic and fraternal organizations; Education; County Day—processional pageant of the counties; an Olympic; Indiana Literature and Art; Woman's Day; Public Health and Civic improvement; Industrial—labor day; Music festival. The Sunday intervening is to be known as Centennial Sunday and churches all over the state will be asked to observe the day in the holding of Centennial services of an historical as well as of a devotional nature.

The services of W. C. Langdon of New York, have been secured as Centennial Pageant Master for Indiana. Mr. Langdon, who was the first president of the American Pageant Association, comes with the backing of the Sage Foundation and is probably the best equipped man in the United States for the position. He is already "on the job" familiarizing himself with his field of work for the coming year.

Believed That King Constantine Has Made up His Mind to Defy The Allies.

By United Press.
London, Nov. 20.—The Greek situation is critical today, according to private advices from German sources through Copenhagen.

The fact that the Athens government has ordered Greek vessels from French and Italian ports is generally taken as a hint that King Constantine means to defy the Allies.

The order is taken as an attempt to forestall attacks on Greek craft by French and Italian vessels already taken.

That the Allies have served an ultimatum on Greece has not yet been confirmed. This report also comes from Germany.

AWAIT FATE OF MONASTIR

Fall of the City Is Expected Momentarily.

FRENCH DEAL HARD BLOW

Repulse Bulgarian Attack In Region of Strumitza With Heavy Losses to Bulgars—Italy Will Send Force to Aid of Serbs.

London, Nov. 20.—News of the fate of Monastir is eagerly awaited here. The fall of the city is momentarily expected and unconfirmed reports are current that it already is in the hands of Bulgarians. The only basis for hope that the city may be saved to the Serbs lies in the increasing strength of the Anglo-French armies, which, should the Bulgars stretch their lines to take in Monastir, would seriously threaten the Bulgarian flank.

Unofficial reports indicate the strengthening of the Anglo-French army, which the brunt of the task of holding back the invaders is expected to fall. Reports that Italy will send a force to assist in this task continue, but without more definite details.

The only action reported by the French war office is the repulse of a Bulgarian attack in the region of Strumitza, the Bulgars suffering appreciable losses.

The German war office gives little additional information regarding the situation in its statement except to tell of the capture of 5,000 Serbs, without mentioning the scene of the fighting, which, apparently is along the Javor-Raska-Kursumliya line, in Old Serbia, where the Austro-German forces are pressing the main Serbian army gradually southward toward the Bulgars in the southern part of the country.

The Ravas agency correspondent at Athens says in a dispatch that there is no official confirmation of the reported retreat of the Serbians on the Southern front following the loss of the Babuna pass, and that the only fact established is the capture of Prilep by the Bulgars, to the south of the pass.

The correspondent expresses the opinion that the Serbs are retiring between Philip and Monastir, in the heights. There are now 50,000 Serbs in the Monastir region, he says, as against 60,000 Bulgars. The military governor of Monastir is reported to have appointed a committee of notables to preserve order. In spite of this fears are expressed of the possible activities of bands of irregulars on the outskirts of the city.

The Greek legation in Paris has denied officially the recent reports from Athens that a commission of German military officers had inspected the allied camp at Salonica with the assistance of the Greek authorities.

BEAT OFF GERMAN AIR RAID

Aerial Squadron of Eight Machines Attacks Luneville, Are Repulsed.

Paris, Nov. 20.—German aviators made a raid on Luneville, in French Lorraine, east of Nancy. The German squadron comprised eight machines.

French airmen immediately ascended to drive off the Germans and succeeded in turning back five of the eight German aeroplanes, but the other three, three bombs on the town, which was taken by the Germans at the beginning of the war and recaptured by the French. Three persons were wounded.

The only other news from the front tells of heavy artillery duels, with an accompanying fire from trench guns and the throwing of hand grenades at Hartmannswillerkopf, in Alsace.

$25,000,000 FOR HIGHWAYS

MOTHER'S SACRIFICE FOR SON

Gives Up Flesh of Her Body to Be Grafted on Wound.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 20.—Unable to endure the agonizing appeals of her little ten-year-old son Paul, the sole of whose foot was torn away in a motorcycle accident here, Mrs. Rose Garrison rushed into the children's ward of the Epworth hospital, and offered to sacrifice the flesh of her body to be grafted on the child's foot. The operation was immediately performed and both mother and child are reported on the way to recovery.

Paul Garrison was on his way home from school when he darted behind an automobile directly in the path of an approaching bicycle. His foot became entangled in the chain of the machine and the entire bottom of his heel and foot were stripped away. The grafted skin was taken from the mother's arm. Physicians say the boy will be a cripple, but by means of the operation will be able to walk.

URGES MEDICAL RESERVE

Preparedness Plans Should Include Manufacture of Medical Supplies.

New York, Nov. 20.—The New York Medical Journal says that the discussion of plans for the reorganization of the army and navy should include consideration of the grave importance of an adequate reserve of medical and surgical supplies and their manufacture at home.

"If the United States became engaged in hostilities," it says editorially, "our ports would probably be blockaded. We should have to depend, therefore, on American sources for all of our supplies, including those needed by the medical corps. A study of the sources which furnish medical supplies are not obtained shows that from 75 to 90 per cent of these are either obtained from foreign sources, or are dependent in some indirect way upon foreign sources."

HAISELDEN IS VINDICATED

Coroner's Inquest Upholds Surgeon Who Permitted Defective to Die.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Dr. Henry J. Haiselden was vindicated. A coroner's jury composed of six leading physicians and surgeons declared the chief of staff of the German-American hospital "was morally and ethically" within his rights in refusing to perform an operation which would have saved the life of Allan J. Bollinger, a deformed baby. He believed it would grow up mentally and morally defective.

But the vindication had its reserve clause. The jury declared it found no evidence that Baby Bollinger would have become mentally or morally defective and expressed the belief that its physical defects in a measure might have yielded to plastic treatment.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Chief Ogallala Fire, eighty-seven, who took part in Custer's last fight, is dying in the home of Chief Little Bear, his friends. Chief Ogallala Fire has been featured in nearly every big circus in the United States. His face is also familiar to moving picture fans.

REVEALS PLAN OF BOMB PROBE

Investigation Will Be Centralized In Bureau.

DEPARTMENTS CO-OPERATE

Inquiry Into All Plots Are to Be In Charge of Department of Justice In Dealing With Criminal Activities of Conspirators.

Washington, Nov. 20.—The plan of the department of justice and treasury department in handling investigations of bomb plots, munition factory explosions and similar matters was announced in a statement authorized by Attorney General Gregory and Secretary McAdoo.

It indicates that in the future the bureau of investigation of the department of justice is to be the main reliance of the government in dealing with alleged criminal activities in this country connected with the European war. The statement follows:

"In view of the widespread statements to the effect that the secret service force of the treasury department has been put in charge of the investigation of all bomb plots, ship burnings, munition factory explosions and the like and the determination of whether the criminal statutes have been violated, the secretary of the treasury and the attorney general authorize the statement:

"That there is no disagreement between the departments as to their respective spheres and none is anticipated;

"That the different departments of the federal government have been instructed to furnish and are furnishing to each other all information reached which will assist each department in performing the duties devolving upon it;

"That, with the exception of crimes relating to counterfeiting and the pay and bounty laws, the bureau of investigation of all information indicating violations of the criminal statutes of the United States, including conspiracies in violation of federal criminal statutes, violations of interstate commerce statutes and passport frauds.

"That the instructions of the secret service of the treasury are to promptly turn over to the bureau of investigation of the department of justice any data developed by the former which will assist the latter in carrying out such investigations."

The secret service began investigating alleged plots involving American neutrality shortly after the war began, and it is well known here that it has collected a mass of information bearing on activities of many kinds. Scores of reports have been made to Secretary McAdoo and some of them are said to have gone up to President Wilson.

CLARK VISITS WHITE HOUSE

Washington, Nov. 20.—Speaker Clark conferred with President Wilson on a national defense and other legislative plans. He will introduce a bill at the opening of the congress to double the appointments at West Point and Annapolis and to provide that any qualified youth may attend either institution without appointment at actual cost and at his own expenses.

He will also favor reducing the term of enlistment in the army from four years to one, so as to have a large reserve. He said he believed the country was for a reasonable preparedness.

WIFE BEATER SENTENCED

Elwood, Ind., Nov. 20.—"My only regret is that I can't send you to prison," said Mayor Harbit when John Stone, a husky blacksmith, was brought into court on the charge of wife beating.

The wife, whose face was cut and bruised, and who said she was the mother of eleven children, whom the father had refused to support, testified this was only one of the numerous times her husband had beaten her. Stone was sentenced to the penal farm for 180 days.

CONVOKES CROWN COUNCIL

Roumania's Attitude In War May Be Decided at Session.

Havre, France, Nov. 20.—Word comes from Bucharest that King Ferdinand has convoked an extraordinary crown council, summoning together for a conference the prominent senators, deputies, prefects and mayors.

The crown council was suggested by Premier Bratiano, who prepared to resign if it was found to be impossible to maintain Roumania's neutrality. Owing to the simultaneous menacing of Roumania by Russia and Austria, both of which powers are massing troops on the northern frontier, the king's decision as to whether or not Roumania shall side with the allies or the Austro-Germans, will depend upon the results of the crown council.

QUILHOT SUED FOR $26,000

Vice Investigator May Also Have to Face Federal Charge.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 20.—Seven civil suits for the recovery of $26,000 were filed in the circuit court by Mrs. Mary Quilhot against her husband, John H. Quilhot, former vice investigator. The grand jury is investigating the "detective's" actions with the purpose of indicting him on a charge of larceny by fraud.

The seven suits were filed immediately after steps for divorce were taken by Mrs. Quilhot, who was formerly a wealthy widow of South Bend. Federal officers also are investigating the actions of Quilhot with the object of prosecuting under the Mann act.

ASSERTS DUTY MUST BE PAID

Declares Government Not Responsible For Theft of Merchandise.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—The payment of duty on $200,000 worth of merchandise reported stolen while being shipped by importers from New York to Chicago, will be exacted by the government, according to John R. Ford, chief deputy collector of customs. Ford said that the customs department could not be held responsible for the theft.

Special agents of the treasury department are investigating the thefts. Mr. Ford thinks the thefts occurred in New York before the shipments were turned over to the railroads.

ACQUITTED OF ARSON CHARGE

Was Accused of Attempting to Burn Drug Store.

Petersburg, Ind., Nov. 20.—The jury in the Warrick Coleman case, in which Coleman, a former trustee of Patoka township, Pike county, was charged with complicity in an attempt to burn Willard Dedman's drug store, at Winslow, after deliberating twelve hours, returned a verdict of not guilty.

How to Prevent Croup.

It may be a surprise to you to learn that in many cases croup can be prevented. Mrs. H. M. Johns, Elida, Ohio, relates her experience as follows: "My little boy is subject to croup. During the past winter I kept a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house, and when he began having that croupy cough I would give him one or two doses of it and it would break the attack. I like it better for children than any other cough medicine because children take it willingly, and it is safe and reliable." Obtainable everywhere.

CHAPTER VI. Chasing Capital.

"WHAT kind of eggs do you eat?" Peale asked Rodney. "Why, hen's eggs, of course," Rodney laughed. "Did you ever eat a duck egg?" asked Peale. "Why, no," said Rodney. "At any rate, not often." "Do you know anything against the duck?" "No." "Exactly. When a duck lays an egg it's a fool and keeps quiet about it, but when a hen does, my boy—cluck, cluck, all over the place. Advertising! So you eat hen's eggs." "You're beginning to convince me," laughed Rodney. He was beginning to get excited. "You really believe that with proper advertising you could build up a great business?" he asked. "Believe! Look around you. Everything's doing it," declared Peale. "Do you want to work for me?" "Sure! Now." "What's your salary?" asked Rodney, the new business man. "I've been getting $60, but I'm worth $75," said Peale quickly. "I'll give you $100," Rodney told him. "What's your business—counterfeiting?" asked Peale skeptically. "No, it's"—began Rodney. "Don't tell me," Peale interrupted. "As long as it doesn't send me to state prison or the chair it's all right. Could I have about $25 advance on salary now?" "Oh, all right," said Rodney, handing him the money. "Just as an evidence of good faith," Peale explained, counting the crisp bills. "Well, now, I'm working for you. What business are you in?" he began again. "The soap business," said Rodney boldly. "Nice clean business. With father?" asked Peale, grinning. "Against him," explained Rodney. "Oh!" said Peale. Rodney reminded him that he and his father had had a quarrel, and Peale agreed very sympathetically that fathers were very unreasonable these days. Finally Peale commented, "Do you know why your father is the soap king?" "I suppose because he controls all the soap business in the country except one," said Rodney. "Exactly, and the way he keeps control of it is by buying out all his live competitors. And now here's a blue ribbon champion of the world scheme. Why don't we make good and sell out to father?" "No; I don't care to do that. I want to make good myself," said Rodney. "Well, if father is forced to buy you out, isn't that enough? What do you want?" asked Peale. "I've got to be a success myself. I've got to show father and—Miss Grayson," explained Rodney. He went on further: "You see father says I can't earn $5 a week." "He isn't right, is he?" queried Peale. "No, sir; you'll see," Rodney answered proudly. "I hope so," said Peale dryly. "At that it's a pretty tough job selling soap if father's against us." "I suppose it is," Rodney agreed. When poor Rodney trotted out the story of the cookbook Peale wanted to know if he was "kidding him," but grew less skeptical when he heard all there was to hear about the cheapest soap in the world. It was a good line, he said, the cheapest soap. How could they use it? he inquired, pausing and thinking deeply, while Rodney was lost in business meditation too. Suddenly Rodney called out: "Peale, I've got an entirely different idea." "Well, don't be selfish. Share it with me," said his partner. "Why do the people jam the cabarets where they only serve champagne," began Rodney excitedly. "Why do they crowd the restaurants where they put up a rope to keep you out? Why do they sit in the sixteenth row in the orchestra when they could have the third row in the balcony? Why do they buy imported clothes? Why do they ride in French automobiles? Because they're better? No; because they're expensive—because they cost more money. So all the sheep think they ought to be better. My boy, listen—the most expensive soap in the world!" "My boy, I could kiss you!" cried Peale delightedly. "A pupil after my own heart—50 cents a cake!" cried Peale. "A dollar, and we'll make it a warm, delicate old rose," said Rodney. "Each cake in a separate box, with a

"You see father says I can't earn $5 a week."

"Let's think," said Rodney. "I am thinking. I never stop," said Peale. "The soap that made Pittsburgh clean," said Rodney. "Too long. You need something catchy." "I had an idea awhile ago," said Rodney—"the People's Soap." "Not if you're going to catch the rich boobs," said Peale. Then suddenly Rodney remembered the legend in the old cookbook and cried out: "Wait, wait! Listen! Listen close! The 13 Soap. Unlucky for Dirt." "Son," said Peale joyously, "it's all over. The old man'll be on his knees in a month." "We open the office Monday," Rodney sang out. "Where's the office?" Peale inquired. "Let's get one," said Rodney. "With furniture and everything," said Peale, "and, say, you'd better call up your tailor and order a couple of business suits." After this manner began the business of the great 13 Soap Company, which was to bring the Soap King Cyrus Martin to his knees and make Rodney a rich man in his own right so he could marry Mary Grayson. The office of the soap company was opened with Mary working for the concern. From time to time an undersecretary or subtypewriter stuck her head through the door and announced some one. This young person opened the door now suddenly and announced with mingled glee and curiosity: "The Countess de Brownen!" Money, when you are chasing it up in the form of capital, is a real will o' the wisp. Now you see it within your grasp, and again your gaze is quite blank. None of the three conspirators in the room realized what was to come of the French and titled lady's interruption and only looked upon her as an inconvenient bore, to be disposed of as best could be. "Oh, that dreadful woman again," sighed Mary. The countess entered and came over to Rodney at once, speaking to him in French: "Vousetes Monsieur Martin?" she cooed. Rodney nodded. "Ah, cher Monsieur Martin—je suis enchantée de vous voir." "The dame's loony," said Peale in an aside to Mary. "No; she's French," said Mary. "She wanted to see your father, and she doesn't speak English. I saw her up at the house." "Well, let her talk to me," Rodney announced, remembering that he had taken a course in elementary French at Harvard. "Say, can you speak French?" asked Peale, surprised and impressed by his new partner's accomplishments. "Not very well, but I can understand it," said Rodney. Then, going over to the countess, he said blankly in English, "Fire ahead." "Eh?" said the countess. "Let me see. Oh, yes—parlez," stammered Rodney. "Ah, mon Dieu—enfin—vous—comprenez Français?" began the countess delightedly. "Oui," said Rodney. "You're immense, kid," put in Peale. The one French word was enough to start up the countess at her best gait. "Je suis Madame la Comtesse de Beaurien—je desire parler a Monsieur Martin apropos des affaires du savon. Je voudrais obtenir l'agence du savon Martin pour la France," she rattled off in one breath. "Wait a minute—wait a minute," said Rodney. "What did she say?" asked Mary. "She's a speedy speller, all right," said Peale. "Would you mind saying that over, and say it slow?" asked Rodney of the countess. "Eh?" said that lady again. "Oh, repetez ca si vous plait—lentement," stammered Rodney. "Je suis Madame la Comtesse de Beaurien—je desire obtenir l'agence du savon Martin pour la France—le peut donner cinquante mille francs pour cette agence." "Oui," said Rodney, quite pleased with himself, upon which the countess was off again: "Et enfin—voulez vous arranger cette affaire pour moi? J'ai beaucoup de references. Je suis riche; je suis bien connue a Paris." "Wait a minute—wait a minute," protested Rodney. Then, turning to Peale, he interrupted plausibly: "She wants the agency for father's soap for France and is willing to pay 50,000 francs for the concession." "How much is that in real money?" asked Peale quickly. "Ten thousand dollars," said Rodney. "Had I better tell your father?" asked Mary. But Rodney had an inspiration. "No, no! Why not keep father out of this? We'll sell her the agency for the 13 Soap. That'd be another ten thousand for us. Peale, she's a gift from the gods!"

"Go to it," said Peale, elated. "But how can you sell her your agency?" objected the prudent Mary. "I don't know. How can I?" wondered Rodney. "If only Marie were here to interpret for us!" sighed Mary. The three partners looked at each other helplessly. They felt as if there were something hovering around that ought not to be allowed to get away, and yet it still eluded them. "I suppose Marie's the French maid," said Peale. "Doesn't she ever come to the office? It might pay us to send up for her. Get a taxi. Buy one, to get $10,000 back on it." But as luck would have it Marie herself burst through the door at this moment, shrieking violently at the undersecretary in her native gibberish. She was another gift from heaven, said Rodney. It was the work of a few minutes to introduce the two compatriots and turn them loose on each other. Rodney bundled them into a side room so the rest could hear themselves think, he said. Then he sent Mary and Peale after them, Mary, on second thought, to translate Peale's slang and Marie to put it into French. Suddenly a door opened, and he started guiltily, but his fears turned to hope when he saw Mr. William Smith coming in. Old Uncle William Smith, one of the oldest friends of the family, had been one of the capital possibilities he had had in mind. Mr. Smith was not really an uncle, but bore that title only by way of courtesy. Rodney's mother and Mrs. Smith had been at school together, and their children, in the tender years when the real and the pretended are not clear to them in the matter of uncles, had always looked upon their elders as related. Uncle William Smith, when Rodney was a boy, used to make a great show of looking through all his pockets to see if he had a nickel in them for him. Would he find anything now? He would tackle Uncle William for $10,000. Would he fail? Well, he could try. Peale stuck his head through the door at this moment to catch Rodney's eye and execute a large and on the whole encouraging wink apropos of the French interview. Rodney gave another wink to Peale that said volumes about Mr. Smith. "That's all now, Mr. Peale," said Rodney, raising his voice. "Yes, sir, I understand," said Peale, winking again. "He takes 50,000 shares at par." "Yes, quite right," said Rodney as Peale's head disappeared. "Who the deuce is that, Rod?" asked Mr. Smith briskly. "Oh, one of my staff," said Rodney carelessly. "One of your what?" asked Mr. Smith, amazed. "My staff; I've gone into business," said Rodney. "You've done what?" asked Mr. Smith, laughing uproariously. "Gone into business. I'm a business man," repeated Rodney. "That's the funniest thing I've ever heard of," said Mr. Smith. ## The most widespread disease in the world

The most widespread disease in the world today is that dread affliction of the teeth called pyorrhea. Nine out of every ten grown persons have it to some extent. You may have it and be unaware of it. Why? Because scientists have proved that the cause of this disease is a germ which inhabits every human mouth, and that thousands have this disease and do not realize it until it reaches the advanced stages of bleeding gums and loose teeth. Accept the advice dentists everywhere are giving and take special precautions in your daily toilet against this disease. To meet the need for such a daily treatment and to enable everyone to take the necessary precautions against this disease, a prominent dentist has put his own prescription before the public in the convenient form of Senreco Tooth Paste. Senreco contains the best corrective and preventive for pyorrhea known to dental science. Used daily it will successfully protect your teeth from this disease. ## WARDEN FOGARTY DENIES RESIGNATION

Holds Conference With Governor Ralston.

Indianapolis, Nov. 20.—While on a visit to this city Warden E. J. Fogarty, of the state prison, denied that he is about to resign. It is reported, however, that he may decide to retire later, possibly within six or seven months, though this will depend on the progress made in organizing a $1,000,000 company to manufacture binder twine. This was the first time that Mr. Fogarty had seen the governor since reports became current recently that the matter of revoking the parole of Dr. C. W. Pagel, arrested at Sullivan, Ind., for stealing automobiles, was the cause of his visit to the executive offices at this time. The question of a new chaplain to fill a vacancy at the prison also was discussed. The fact that Michael E. Foley, a member of the board of trustees of the state prison, and Samuel T. Murdock, who is one of the organizers of the proposed binder twine company, were at the state house at the time Warden Fogarty called on Governor Ralston and Auditor of State Crittenger, gave rise to a report that Mr. Fogarty's resignation might be forthcoming soon. Mr. Fogarty, however, denied that the subject of his possible resignation had been discussed. "I may take an interest in a binder twine plant if it is established, but I am not a twinemaker and it would not necessarily follow that I would leave the prison," said Mr. Fogarty just before he departed for Michigan City. "It is not even certain that the twine company will be formed, and it certainly will be a long time before a plant is ready for operation."

sents all children under the teen ages. The work being done by the conferences is very practical and helpful to teachers and officers in these grades.

The devotional meeting this afternoon was led by Rev. T. C. Smith, editor of the Baptist Observer. This was followed by two addresses, the first on "Expressional Activities" by Mrs. Bryner and the second on "Missionary Instruction" by Miss Huckelberry. The conference then broke up into four departmental sessions. The Cradle Roll session led by Miss Huckelberry and the Beginners' session led by Miss Lemen were held in the Baptist church. The Primary session led by Miss Weaver and the Junior session led by Mrs. Bryner were held in the St. Paul church. These four sessions were held simultaneously, each group of Sunday School workers selecting the one in which they are most interested.

At 7 o'clock this evening the state officers gave a reception to the delegates at the St. Paul church. The reception will be followed by the main session to be held at the Baptist church and is open to the public whether delegates or not. Everybody is invited to attend.

Delegates are here from all parts of southern Indiana and as far north as Kokomo and New Castle. The attendance has been very gratifying although not as large as was hoped due in part no doubt to the antics of the weatherman on Friday when most of the delegates would be leaving their homes. # WILLIE PROVIDES EXCITEMENT AT THEIR THANKSGIVING DINNER

DEAR TOMMY: Mamma lectures Papa so much about standing up when he carves that I made an arrangement like this so he could turn the turkey around without getting up. Thanksgiving Papa wanted to show off and kept turning the turkey until he broke the friction brake, and it kept whirling around until the spring ran down. My, how everybody laughed at Papa. Yours, etc.

WILLIE.

JINGLING JOHNSON JINGLES JOYFULLY OF THANKSGIVING

THE HUNGRY PILGRIMS LANDED ON THE TOP OF PLYMOUTH ROCK. NO SOONER HAD THEY LANDED THAN THEY ALL BEGAN TO KNOCK. "THE CLIMATE," SAID OLD BREWSTER, "ISN'T WHAT IT OUGHT TO BE—WHO ARE THESE PAINTED SAVAGES, ALL NAKED, THAT WE SEE?"

THEN OBIDIAH ALDEN LIT HIS LONG CHURCH WARDEN PIPE. SAID HE THIS IS A LONESOME PLACE. I'LL BET THEY HAVE NO TRIPE. THEY LANDED WITH THEIR DUNNAGE AND OF FOOD A SLENDER STORE. WHILE INDIANS DID DANCE AROUND AND HOLLER, "CHOWF, GALORE!"

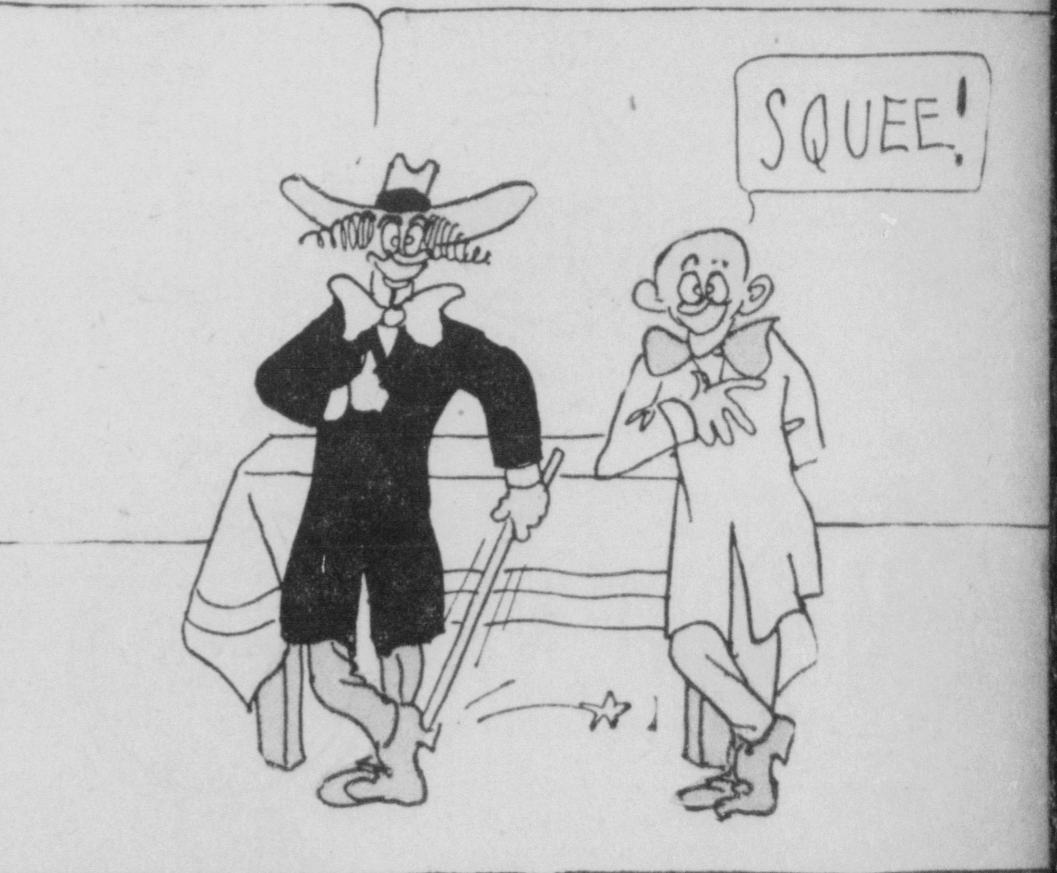

HOSTILE BECAME THE INDIANS—THE PILGRIMS HAD NO FORT, BUT SCARED THE REDSKINS FOR AWHILE WITH MR. BREWSTER'S TO BASE AND FOUL ACTIONS. AH, THE PILGRIMS THEN DID STAY AND BEING OUT OF BULLETS SHOT THE INDIANS WITH SOUP! SOUSE!

STARVATION DID ASSAIL THEM—THEY WERE RUNNING OUT OF EATS. AND BUCKSKIN BOOTS AND DOUBLETS ARE NO SUBSTITUTE FOR MEATS. OLD BREWSTER WENT A HUNTING—"GOBBLE—GOBBLE." THEN HE HEARD, THEN POINTED HE HIS BLUNDER BUS AND SHOT A TURKEY BIRD. BANG! JUST LIKE THAT!

THEY PICKED THE BIRD AND ROASTED HIM WITH OYSTER DRESSING—STUFFED. THE WOMEN MADE SOME PUMPKIN PIES, THE CRUST WAS NICELY PUFFED, THEN SAT THEY DOWN TO DINNER, WITH THEIR CORNSILK TEA, IN TANKS. BEFORE WE EAT, SAID BREWSTER, LET US GIVE A PRAYER OF THANKS.

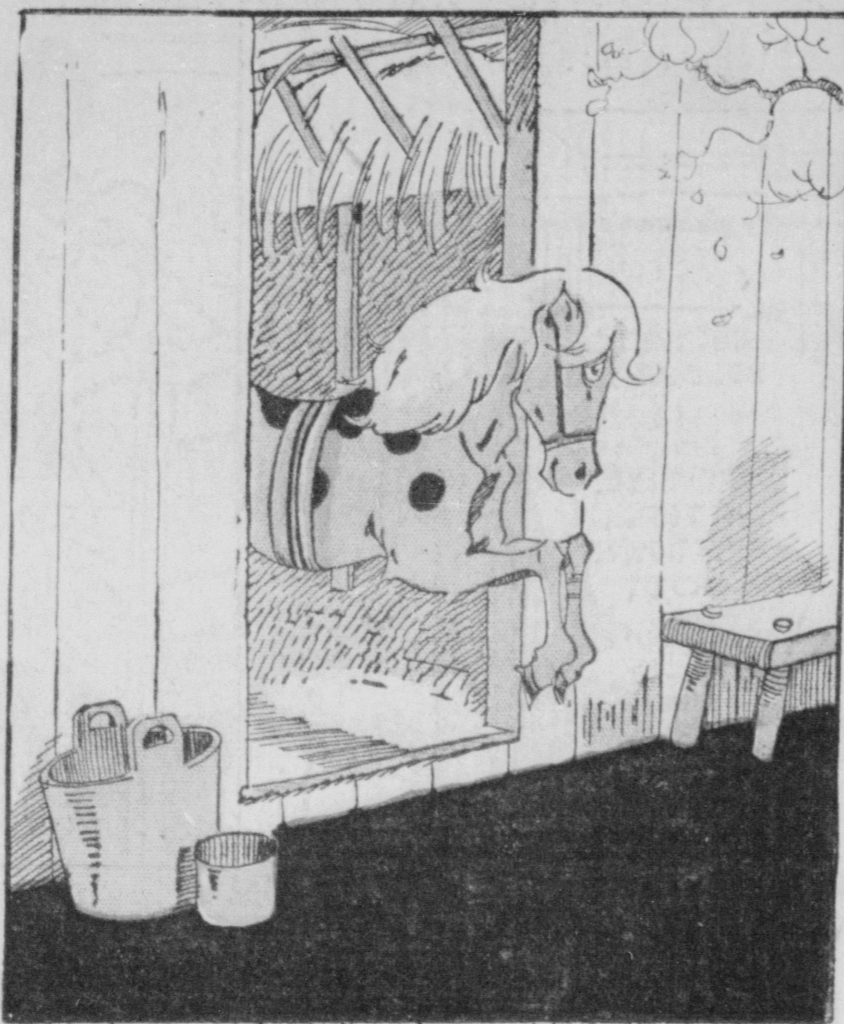

'T WAS THUS THE FIRST THANKSGIVING DAY DID GET ITS HUMBLE START. IT CAME FROM FAMISHED PILGRIMS, EACH ONE THANKFUL IN HIS HEART. THE CUSTOM HAS BEEN HANDED DOWN—ALL OF US WHO ARE ABLE HAVE TURKEY, YES, AND PUMPKIN PIE, ON OUR THANKSGIVING TABLE.

ANNA BELLE Visits Grandpa's on Thanksgiving

Dear Friends:--What are you going to do for Thanksgiving this year? I've planned for lots of fun, for as usual we are to eat our Thanksgiving dinner down at Grandpa's and you know that means lots of goodies and a good time, too. Grandpa prides himself on how he can carve a turkey, and although he's getting quite old he insists on doing the carving Thanksgiving and Christmas. I hope you are experiencing as much pleasure as I am and only wish that our whole SEWING SOCIETY could be together on one of these occasions. But of course, that wouldn't be possible, as we now have thousands and thousands of members so we must band together in our neighborhoods and see that the poor girls and boys we know of get a good dinner on this day of Thanksgiving. Let's make them thankful that there is an ANNA BELLE SEWING SOCIETY whose members are concerned in them and their happiness and we will reap joy in knowing we are making someone's life brighter.

If you haven't sent for your Certificate of Membership now is the very time to do so. Just write me a letter care this paper, enclose a two-cent stamp for postage and I'll be glad to send you one. Also tell me of how you're getting along in school, etc., as such things are very interesting to your loving.

Anna Belle
